

Policy workshops for V4 think tanks: education policy

17 April 2014

1074 Budapest, Dohány u. 84.

Programme

9.30- 10.00 Welcome

10.00- Empirical evidence on early tracking in V4 countries

12.00

Presenter

Discussant

Maciej Jakubowski (PL) – The effects of delaying tracking in secondary school: Evidence from the 1999 Education Reform in Poland

Dániel Horn

Pawel Bukowski (PL) – Hidden tracking or mixing? The structure of comprehensive education and sorting of students in Poland

Zoltán Hermann (HU) – Are you on the right track? The effect of educational tracks and preferred schools on student achievement in upper-secondary education in Hungary

Pawel Bukowski

Daniel Münich (CZ) – The impact of high-stake school-admission exams on study effort and achievements: Quasi-experimental evidence from Slovakia

Márton Csillag

12.00- Lunch break

12.45

12.45- What can be learnt from previous reform initiatives? (design and political economy issues) – Poland and Hungary: a successful and an aborted reform.

13.30

Opening words: Maciej Jakubowski, Ágota Scharle

13.30- Coffee break

13.45

13.45- Roundtable on policy lessons and proposals

15.15